President's Report (Sally-Julie)

Halloween was a very big spooky event this year. Huge thanks to Eva for all the hard work that went into coordinating the crafts and games stations. I think overall consensus was that we needed more volunteers almost everywhere. Some suggestions we have would be to match up the very helpful grade 6ers with grades K-2, rather than with the older grades. Grade 5 kids were not as helpful as the morning was way too chaotic.

Recettes en Pot orders closed out last week and we had a record-breaking $5004 in sales which raises $2502 for the family emergency fund and 457 meals for Le Depot. Luisa, hats off to you for your organization of this super successful fundraiser.

Our second TSAW event: a wine and cheese spread post-parent-teacher interviews last Wednesday was a great success thanks to Kim Tulloch and Luisa. The teachers definitely felt the love after a long day.

Carolyn's Toy Drive is underway with drop-offs happening up until Dec 2. There are already more than 95 donation slots filled as of last week, which is surpassing last year's 80 donations. I think this is a sign that this initiative is being warmly welcomed by our community.

We hosted another successful book fair last week thanks to the expert planning of Eva, Sharon and Michelle. These ladies took on a huge task and did a phenomenal job of organizing this marathon of an event. Thank you.

Some of you may have noticed our new set of reusable tablecloths at the book fair, thanks to Kristy for organizing the fabric ordering and sewists.

Earlier this month, Sarah, Genevieve, Ms Carmen, Ms Maya and myself went to the QFHSA 75th anniversary banquet. Willingdon was honoured as being one of the four oldest Home and School associations in Quebec! We received a plaque and a really special yearbook commemorating 75 years of Home and School at Willingdon. It was an inspiring evening hearing from some Home and School parent members that have been involved for literally decades in the association.

It's hard to believe, but Julie and I are coming to the end of our term as co-chairs so we wanted to plant the seed for any of you that may be thinking about taking a leadership role in HS. We will not be returning as co-chairs, but you will have our full support- even from afar! Julie plans to stay on board the same way Luisa has done for us. We highly recommend doing this job as a pair to spread out the responsibilities and have a chance to take a break. If there are no co-chairs, there is no home and school. We've somehow figured out how to keep it going for the past 75 years, so I know we will find some people to stop into the role for the next year.

Principal's Report (Maya)

Halloween was great; Photo day re-takes kids will be walking back with staff; TSAW after parent interviews was greatly appreciated! Toy drive/sock drive is going well, Dec 5th deadline for cards and sock drive. More sock donations at the concert. Carolling Tuesday Dec 17th; Green Committee getting on board to make posters.
